CAUSES OF DIVORCE.

They Differ in Almost Every Country of the World.

To Reach International Uniformity In Laws Governing the Severing of the Marriage Tie Seems an impossibility.

Under the appropriate chairman ship of a New York lawyer the International Law association, meeting at Glasgow, gave up one session to a discussion of the divorce laws of civilized nations, and adjourned after reaching the conclusion that there was no hope of reaching anything like uniformity.

As illustrating the impossibility of reaching uniformity in divorce laws; a brief summary of some of the more important features may serve. Thus, In the republic of Argentina, in South America, divorce is unknown, though its place is taken by what is called a "personal separation," based on any one of a number of causes, including and relatives in Gurley, Ala. cruelty and ill-treatment. Under the laws of the republic no widow can remarry for ten months after the death

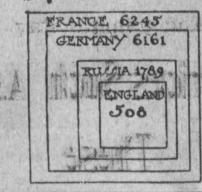

"personal reprection.

In Austria Hungary no discrete are allowed between Catholics. Before even separations are allowed the farish priest is allowed to try his best to affect a reconciliation. Divors be tween Jews ffat ha had by mutual contals, where hireconfliable hatrad" i considered to lead to tragic results. In Japan the chases of directe Ar all in favor of the husband and against the wifer. Thus, one of the principal causes in the disobedience of a wife to the commands of has husband's parents. Again, if a woman shows finy signs of jealousy her husband may put her away, and a petition for divorce will hold if the woman be shown to be talkative to a degree which displeases er lord and master.

In Belgium it is not possible to ob tain a divorce after "20 years of mar-riage, or after the wife has attained the age of 45 years." No divorce by "mutual consent" shall be granted at any time, unless the parties to it shall first obtain the consent of their par-

Germany the permission of the par ents must be obtained, if the man is less than 25 years old or the bride less than 24. If an officer or a private soldier in the regular army should be married without the consent of his superiors he is liable to imprisonment in a fortress for a period of three months. When an application for divorce is made, the judge is first required to attempt a reconciliation. If children have been born the difficulty of securing a divorce is greatly increased. Hopeless insanity is recognized as a good ground, as are "insuperable aversion" to each other on the part of the petitioners, and "quarrelsomeness," "serious defamation of character" and "restriction of per-sonal liberty." "Extravagance" is anwhich is often taken advantage of.

Why Study Osteopathy?

If we should offer positive assurance that we could thorough-My qualify you in twenty months to practice a profession that would double treble or quadruple your present income, your interest would be enlisted.

But of course we cannot guarantee that.

Yet pinety per cent, of the men or women who read this could probably make more money from the practice of Osteopathy in a single year than they now make in five water.

The reason is simple. This is an age of specialists. The man or woman who knows one thing well, and follows it succeeds you assumed that have not all the second systems failed that the new method of healing has been won-derfully popularized and given tremendous impetus.

Ten years ago Osteopathy was obscure. Fo-day it has the legal sanction of nearly half the states. It furnishes unexampled opportunity to young men and women. Consider that there are less than 2,000 osteopathic physicians in the world. Half a million could, find a great mission and great remuneration to-day. Science is the simplicity of truth. Osteopathy, is the simplicity of science. It does not concern itself so much with symptoms, but applies the axe to the cause of the disease. "Get back to nature" is the slogan of modern medical pro-press. Osteopathy is nature's method. We teach Anatomy, Histology, Physiology, Pathology, Chemistry, Symptomatology, and everything taught in the medical universities except materia medica, for which is substituted the principles and practice of osteopathy. We have graduated and sent into the field a large number of physicians. They have won success. They conquer disease. And after a few months of meritorious practice they are established for life. The Southern School of Osteopathy is one of the oldest and best of the osteopathic institutions. It is a member of the associated colleges. Its diplomas give you credentials to practice anywhere on earth. It requires four terms of five months each to complete the course. Tuition $300. Classes open in September and February ary each year.
